

As Foodbuy Group Commercial Director, Jonathan plays a pivotal role in forging strong partnerships with the members of the Foodbuy group and our suppliers. Jonathan takes the lead in driving our teams to propel our purchasing power as Foodbuy Group to bring cost savings to all our clients.

Jonathan's career has always been in food, starting in operations at Marks and Spencer then moving into commercial and supply chain leadership roles in Foodbuy. This background in operational and commercial functions has made him well-placed to take a client-led approach to drive our commercial strategy. Outside of work, Jonathan cherishes moments with his young family, boating on the river, beach days, sports and exploring new destinations.
